

ABOUT THE INSTITUTION

University College of Engineering Ramanathapuram was started in the academic year 2008–2009 under the control of Anna University, Tiruchirapalli and then handed over to Anna University of Technology, Madurai. Now, this campus is running as one of the constituent colleges of Anna University, Chennai. Since its inception, the campus has been registering steady progress and it currently offers five undergraduate (full – time) programme in major branches of engineering. The college is actively involved in various research projects. It is situated in Pullangudi, about 7 Km from Ramanathapuram town and about 7 Km from Devipattinam.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Mechanical Engineering (ME) was started in the academic year 2008–2009. The department offers the UG courses in Mechanical Engineering English and Tamil Medium. The department has a team of highly qualified and dedicated faculty members. The department has three doctorate and seven scholars presently pursuing the doctoral programme. The department has been conducting so many workshops and seminars for the welfare of the students and faculties. The alumni of our department are spread wide across the globe holding eminent positions in Industries and Academia.

ABOUT THE PROGRAMME

- The main focus of this course will be on Engineering Mechanics as per the syllabus of Anna University, Regulation 2017. To understand the different fields of Statics, Dynamics, Properties of Surfaces & Solids and Friction.
- Upon completion of this FDTP, the participants can able to understand both theoretical and practical problems involved in Engineering Mechanics.

COURSE CONTENT

This programme covers the following important aspects of Engineering Mechanics:

- Statics of Particles
- Equilibrium of Rigid Bodies
- Properties of Surfaces and Solids
- Dynamics of Particles
- Friction and Rigid Body Dynamics

RESOURCE PERSONS

Sessions will be handled by the experts in R & D from leading Universities/Institutions and Industrial persons.

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

The course is open to all the teaching faculties of Mechanical Engineering, Civil Engineering and other relevant branches working in Anna University affiliated Engineering Colleges with interest in Engineering Mechanics.
